

How many languages do you offer?

80 languages and growing. We also have ESL for 50 non-English languages. Each language has a minimum of 1,500 phrases, and a maximum of 10,000.

Uniquely, we also offer the ability to learn any language in any other language — making for 4,000 possible course combinations!

Do you offer remote access?

Yes. Your students and faculty can use Pronunciator wherever they are.

Do you have apps?

Yes, full-featured, native apps for all Android (tablet, phone), Apple (iPad, iPhone, iPod touch) and Kindle Fire device types.

Are there download limits?

Yes. Each student can download up to 90 MP3 audio lessons per month (about 60 hours of content); and up to 10 e-Phrasebooks per month. The following month, the cap is lifted, and they can resume streaming or downloading. This limit is student-specific, and has no effect on the downloading or streaming of other patrons in your library.

Do you have scored quizzes?

Yes, over 2,000 per course. Detailed reports are available for each student, showing scores on every quiz. You can even group students by language studied.

Do you use humans for translations and voice?

Yes, native speakers are used for both translation and voice-over work. No machine translation or computer voices are used.

Can your courses be customized?

Yes. Our Course Designer, free with your subscription, allows for the creation and deployment of custom courses that leverage our content and functionality.

Do you have structured courses, too?

Yes. Many languages have up to ten 8-week structured courses. Each course assumes 5 days per week of study, and 30 to 60 minutes per day of commitment. With a progressive degree of difficulty, the structured courses offer up to 80 weeks (20 months — nearly 2 years) of guided learning per language.

Do you have printed manuals?

Yes, 54-page full-color manuals are available in both English and Spanish at no charge to put into circulation, along with interactive PDF versions.
